Greensted Newsletter

Friday 23rd October

What a fantastic week we have had at Greensted! Our Fright Night disco was a huge success. The children looked stunning in their costumes and had the best time dancing, smiling and enjoying themselves with their friends. Thank you to everyone who helped the evening run so smoothly. This week, Year 3 and 4, and Year 5 and 6 competed against other schools in the area in an In-door athletics tournament. The children tried their very best and represented Greensted with enthusiasm and determination. Well done to everyone who took part! This week, Year 6 were gifted a free book: the amazing Impossible Creatures, from Her Majesty the Queen. The children were very grateful for this gift and were excited to receive such a special book to read and enjoy. We also donated all of your generous food donations to the Salvation Army this week. The Salvation Army were very grateful for the food, which will help to supply food to people in the local area. Thank you for your kindness and generosity. Have a wonderful and well-deserved half term. It has been eight weeks, our very longest part of the year, and the children have achieved so much. Thank you for your ongoing support, and enjoy the half term. Mr. Chetty

Goodbye

Unfortunately, we are saying goodbye to Mr. Callen. Mr. Callen has been with us for 3 years and in that time has been a major part of the success of Greensted. Working incredibly in Year 1 and this year, in and around other parts of the school. Throughout, his time Mr. Callen has been professional, considerate and kind. We are all going miss you Mr. Callen and we wish you the very best in your new role. GPS

STUDENT VOICE

DOUGIE, JACK, JOSHUA AND MILLIE

Welcome to the Fantastic Four! Today we have very, very interesting news. First off, why are people bringing squishys to school? The last person that did it, their one popped and split onto the ground. Also in the Year 5 and 6 toilets, in one cubicle, the handle is twisted and broken making it impossible to flush the toilet. And in the second cubicle there was a lack of toilet paper. On Wednesday, Greensted had their Halloween disco. At the end of the school day, many pupils got into their spooky Halloween costumes. At the disco there was lots of prizes, sweets and more. As a witness, I say it was VERY fun! Mystery, mystery, what is the mystery? Today's mystery is...somebody is vandalizing the Key Stage 2 boys toilets., by breaking the flush handle and not owning up to it. Uh oh! If you know anything please tell the SV! The half-term term is finally here. Children can sit back, relax and enjoy Halloween! Your holiday will last only one week! Get as much as you can done and enjoy. Signing off Dougie. We shall see you next term. The Fantastic Four!
